ALGAE-X INTERNATIONAL ATTENTION: MR. BILL MILLER

Bill,

We are happy to report that after having installed the ALGAE-X system on several of our custom yachts, we have experienced no fuel related problems and have many happy customers. We intend to continue to use this system and strongly recommend it to our future customers as well.

Having personally spent many years at a major yacht repair facility on the East coasts "Intercoastal Waterway", each Fall and Winter my BREAD & BUTTER was from southbound yacht traffic with fuel related problems.

My sales from service calls, cases of fuel filters and fuel conditioners were quite handsome and considering the commission I made from these sales I was happy that customers were not using this system, although not happy to have a customer want to use their boat after a grueling work week only to find that they could not without a fuel filter change (sometimes many) or worse, pump the fuel tanks dry and cleaned which can be a costly alternative.

I can only strongly recommend to builders and boat owners to install the ALGAE-X system to put the "PLEASURE" back into pleasure boating.

Thank You,
