

From: <Mijo5757@aol.com>
To: <algae-x@algae-x.net>
Sent: Monday, September 18, 2000 7:23
Subject: it really works

Dear Algae-X:

I was having a major problem with my boat smoking and leaving a terrible diesel residue on my transom and aft sides near the exhaust every time I took her out, for even a short ride. Being a boat with only 80 hours, I was certain that this problem belonged to either the boat manufacturer or to people at Cummins Engines.

After trying several expensive alternatives, including hauling my boat, repitching propellers, changing filters, fuel additives and more, I resorted to what I thought to be a ridiculous last attempt. At the end of last year summer I purchased a pair of your fuel conditioners.

Now that this season is coming to an end, I wanted to let you know that what I thought to be a last resort hoax, turned out to be a fabulous innovation. This past summer I experienced less smoke residue the entire season than I previously had during a two hour cruise prior to installing your Algae-x products.

So, to all of the frustrated boaters suffering with similar problems, take it from a person who almost traded his boat, it really works.

Thank you Algae-X,
Michael Silverman
Boston, MA